

I do not want the do not call list to be overturned. I was so tired of answering the phone and having people trying to sell me something. It is nice and quite now. Please leave things alone.